

Individual group assignments

Group Exercise 2 for Group 1:

You should schedule an online meeting with your group for the preparation. Do calculate around an hour for the meeting. It probably makes sense to plan the meeting within the week before our next Zoom meeting.

Please read ONLY THE SECTIONS ASSIGNED TO YOUR GROUP from the document 'German Culture for European Cultures' that was sent to you attached to the info-mail for this course.

General overview and gender roles and rules

Please read the following sections from the text:

At the beginning of the document

Introduction (Page 1)

and

Punctuality (Page 1, only up to line five ending on 'Germans can easily be offended by delay.')

(You do not have to go into extensive detail on this section in your presentation – the most important thing is though, that there are different sets of rules for different occasions. Especially in the workplace or for more conservative social events, you are expected to know the specific rules beforehand and dress as well as act accordingly).

Prepare a short presentation that you will hold (live) at the beginning of our next online meeting with the whole course. You do not need to include everything, but you should summarize what you think is most important from the two sections. You can get creative about how you want to present it as long as the content gets across ... 5-7 Minutes.

I wish you a good time working on this exercise.
